

Jim Leroy

Driven. Aggressive. Exciting. Hard-Charging. All these words describe Jim Leroy but to fully appreciate his complex and dynamic character, one simply has to watch him fly. When your jaw returns to its upright and locked position, you will have experienced one of the most incredible civilian aerobatic displays of the decade.

Kirby Chambliss

Air Race. The very term conjurs up visions of dashing heroes and their valiant aircraft, burning up the course for the chance at victory. For Kirby Chambliss, the course is his canvas, and his Edge 540 is a brush of streaking raw horsepower. What could DaVinci have done with such a brush? Kirby knows....

Patty Wagstaff

As if charm and renaissance beauty weren't enough, add aerobatic competition champion and Aviation Hall of Fame to the list and you get Patty Wagstaff. World class talent and genuine personality make her the perfect match for Cirrus Design, a world class aircraft manufacturer that, like Patty, likes to make their mark in most dramatic fashion.

Mike Mancuso

Make your move. ANY move. That's what Mike Mancuso can do in the Klein Tools Extra 300. Any move you like. Mike is an accomplished formation as well as solo pilot, and several of his numerous appearances nationwide this year included an eye-popping formation spectacle with Matt Chapman in his CAP 580.
